The reception tendered Judge Clement Smith and wife by Captain and Mrs. M. Cooney at their pleasant home on McCutchen avenue Monday evening was one of the most pleasant social events of the season. As the guests arrived they were each presented with a little souvenir of the evening, in the shape of a small bouquet of sweet peas tied with a knot of white ribbon on the ends of which was tastefully printed the word welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Smith stood in a bay-window and when the guest had been presented to the distinguished couple, was then ushered into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served by dainty little maidens. To say Captain and Mrs. Cooney are royal entertainers would but half express it. After a couple hours spent in pleasant conversation the company, consisting of some fifty of Socorro's most prominent people, dispersed wishing Judge Smith and his amiable wife might make up their minds to become residents of Socorro.

George F. Walker Dead.

A letter was received by Captain A. B. Fitch of Kelly from Major T. J. Cochrane, treasurer of the Pacific branch of the National Home of Disabled Volunteer soldiers, at Los Angeles informing him of the death of George F. Walker, a former resident of Socorro at the Home on July 24.

Mr. Walker came to Socorro some twenty years ago with his family consisting of two small daughters and their grand mother, and remained here until the eldest daughter, Mamie, was married, and who now, with the younger daughter resides in Colorado. Mr. Walker was an expert book-keeper, having held a position of that character for many years in the Brown-Manzaneros Bank of Socorro, and up to within a year of his death was employed by Capt. Fitch in the same capacity, when his health failed him so completely he was compelled to give up his position, to seek another climate.

George Walker was a man of exceptional character, possessing a pleasant personality, and verified his good blood and breeding by the quiet temperate life he led.

Death of Andrew Lane.

Andrew Lane died at 10 o'clock Thursday evening of consumption after a confinement to his room of some six or eight weeks. Mr. Lane came to the territory some two years ago for his health, was very much benefited, and returned to the east where he was married. Finding his health failing again he returned to New Mexico coming to Socorro about six months ago, where he invested in a small ranch which he was cultivating at the time he was stricken with the attack which resulted in his death.

Mr. Lane was born in Ontario, Canada 40 years ago, graduated from the Toronto School of Practical Science, with the degree of P. L. S., and C. E., and taught in the same college for two years. He leaves a wife and infant son five sisters, and one brother, W. A. Lane, now a resident of this city, to mourn his untimely demise.

The remains were laid to rest in the Socorro cemetery. The funeral services being conducted by Socorro lodge No. 9, A. F. and A. M.

Leasing Land.

El Paso, Tex., July 27, 1903.
To Stockmen:

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company will lease the lands in the "A & P" Land Grant New Mexico, in lots of not less than all the railroad land in one township to one person.

Rental price, one-half (½) cent per acre.

Term of lease—one year. There will probably be no trouble in renewing leases if the land be not wanted for railroad purposes or if other conditions remain substantially the same.

The undersigned will be at Magdalena on the afternoon of Friday, the twenty-eighth (28) of August, 1903, to receive applications for leases, which should be accompanied by cash to cover the rental price for one year.

Those interested are requested to confer with their neighbors and arrange beforehand in whose name lease for the railroad land of each township will be taken, so that there will be no conflicting applications.

No applications will be received before the date set, and it is desirable that applicants be present in person, that allotments may be made in public meeting.

Yours truly,
H. S. VAN SLICK,

Adjutant General Whitman visits Water Cañon.

Adjutant-General W. H. Whitman accompanied by O. R. Smith of the local guard left for Water Cañon yesterday for the purpose of investigating the conditions near Water Cañon for the annual encampment of the National Guard of New Mexico. A later report is to the effect that a site has been offered the General near the Rio Grande smelter two miles west of Socorro.

As soon as the Adjutant-General has made an examination of the water conditions he will make a final report concerning the date and place of encampment.

There will be at least two companies of regulars at the maneuvers. The two companies will possibly come from Fort Logan. All the various militia companies in the territory are now making preparations for this military event, which will be held the latter part of August.
